PORTFOLIO 1972

Rhode Island School of Design, Providence

Dedicated to Charlie and Jennie

"If at the end of your four years of exposure to RISD's mind-expanding environment, you leave this institution sufficiently equipped to deliver your own creative views to the world, then we will feel that we have done our job.

Personally, I hope that you will not lose touch with us because future generations of students will need aid and inspiration which you can provide out of your experience in the world beyond our walls."

The Empty Bladder.—When hardened in situ, the empty bladder has the form of a flattened tetrahedron, with its vertex tilted forward. It presents a fundus, a vertex, a superior and an inferior surface. The fundus (Fig. 1141) is triangular in shape, and is directed downward and backward toward the rectum, from which it is separated by the rectovesical fascia, the vesiculæ seminales, and the terminal portions of the ductus deferentes. The vertex is directed forward toward the upper part of the symphysis pubis, and from it the middle umbilical ligament is continued upward on the back of the anterior abdominal wall to the umbilicus. The peritoneum is carried by it from the vertex of the bladder on to the abdominal wall to form the middle umbilical fold. The superior surface is triangular, bounded on either side by a lateral border which separates it from the inferior surface, and behind by a posterior border, represented by a line joining the two ureters, which intervenes between it and the fundus. The lateral borders extend from the ureters to the vertex, and from them the peritoneum is carried to the walls of the pelvis.

Unraveling Lemons for the Ardenth Time

Unraveling lemons for the ardenth time i waited for uncles oscar to hopsack down the rind. Never claiming kings for my gods-i rended paper and tossed the innards out of dead watermelons. Meanwhile Morris licked the banana and sent sensual limpids to the audience. The lights went on when the girl shouted is there a doctor in here. Someone fainted. Scorpions rose and mooned over the dead christ but followed him for the desecration of the church. A cloud slashed across the moon and then he slit her eye. Weeping and lamenting they wait and great sorrow felled the earth's pine. Lick the banana Morris see if i care watch for seven minutes while you transvest. I have trees to build.

1. In politics we will practice auto-destruction with all our might, and trust in human virtues.
2. All our collaborators must be handsome so we can publish their portraits.
3. We will energetically protest all exudite decadence, dadaism and its substitutes, morality, union of north and south, syphilis in its various stages, cocaine, scratchy hairs, compulsory education, polyrhythm, polytone, polynesia, carnal vices, and particularly homosexuality in all forms.
4. Our freshness will submit neither to second-hand tubes nor to our friends' lovers.
5. Under all circumstances we'll refuse to explain precisely what will not be understood.

Our enterprise is as mad as our hopes. Having taken the greatest precautions with things of the least importance, we will claim nothing; ~~[illegible]~~ love of the most superior girls is more important. "Hop-la, Hop-la, that is our motto.
